World Affairs Seminar 2012

Global

Communication 2.0:

Technology's Impact on Understanding

A Rotary District 6270 Initiative
June 16 – 22, 2012
Carroll University, Waukesha, WI

2012 Program Highlights

Technological advances in communication have changed the world in ways never imagined, even a few years ago. The world's 7 billion people are more connected than ever before in history. Ideas and information that once took years to reach the corners of the globe now travel in milliseconds.

Affected are entire societal systems. Economies are transformed and personal behavior is changed. How should international society deal with and react to these dynamics? What impact can we as individuals have?

Key features of the 2012 World Affairs Seminar:
Explore cutting – edge topics in the areas of emerging communications and technological developments. Hear about current trends and discuss their importance. Learn which institutions are engaged in the conversation on global technology and communications. Listen to what the experts have to say. Build leadership skills. Collaborate with your peers. Gain skills in media relations and blogging so you can share information. Develop your own conclusions at the World Affairs Seminar

The World Affairs Seminar has been preparing young people to deal with global problems and issues for more than thirty years.
